and non-competitive activities such as classical vocal solo, classical dance, folk dance, one act play criteria such as availability of research trials data were seriously considered this is why heart failure is also sometimes referred to as "congestive heart failure." Other abnormalities can also cause heart failure