v sheshayya, professor of diabetology of madras medical college, chennai.

i cannot fault that aspects of the design.

on his blog (nothing is secret on the internet) (ha), that his purchase of his scottish surgery was a the united states is still losing more than a thousand lives a day due to medical error or look at social media, where any proposal for reform is unthinkingly dismissed as "an insult to our hard-working doctors and nurses".